"I feel sorry for the person who was killed, but I feel sorrier for the people left behind."

— Koby Mandell speaking to a classmate at the funeral of an Israeli father of five children murdered by terrorists three months before Koby was murdered.

The Koby Mandell Foundation On May 8, 2001, Arab terrorists murdered 13 year old Koby Mandell and his friend Yosef Ish Ran near their home in Israel. In response, Koby's parents, Rabbi Seth and Sherri Mandell created The Koby Mandell Foundation.

The Camp Koby Summer in Israel Program is under the direction of Roy Angstreich, MSW.

The Program

Based on The Koby Mandell Foundation's ground breaking work with thousands of children and adults struck by terror, THE CAMP KOBY SUMMER IN ISRAEL PROGRAM will give you an opportunity to interact with and encourage hundreds of children affected by terror.

- You'll build friendships with Israeli teens in The Koby Mandell Friends program. Together you'll do chesed in memory of their friends killed in terror attacks.
- You'll live and interact with younger kids at Camp Koby
- You'll learn about the effects of the "matzav" and how you can help
- You'll have a great time enjoying the beauty of Israel with countrywide tours
- You'll acquire the information and skills to be an advocate for Israel and a leader in the effort to help Israeli kids when you return home.

Camp Koby

The Koby Mandell Friends Program

Teens who have lost best friends join together and support each other to share feelings, heal their pain and learn to express their love for their friend in positive ways. In advanced programs, kids develop leadership skills and create programs for sharing their stories with visitors to Israel, camps, schools and communities abroad.
